FROM THE RECTOR

Dear Parents,

The last P&F Meeting on Tuesday 11 May was a parent information workshop on ‘Cyber Safety’. Our guest speaker was Brett Lee (not the cricketer), who was a policeman and has worked for Argos and with the FBI on the issue of online criminal activity particularly in relation to child safety. The evening was very informative in view of recent events; very timely. Brett made a number of worthwhile points regarding online child safety. These included:

- The internet is not going away. It will continue to be a part of our lives.
- Children need to be educated about the dangers that are posed by the internet. They also need to be educated about THEIR responsibilities in relation to the internet.
- Social networking sites are anything but social.

Some advice Brett gave parents about safe use of the internet in the home included:

- Locate the computer in a visible area (not the bedroom).
- Monitor your child’s use of the internet and social sites in particular.
- Know their cyber friends as you would want to know their real friends.
- Do not allow them to post personal details or their future movements and plans on social sites.

The evening was very worthwhile and the P&F intend to have other such occasions in the future.

The association of the three Franciscan schools, affectionately known as FOTH (Franciscans on the Hill), had a two day meeting recently. The purpose of the meeting was to plan strategically the future involvement of all three schools. The strategic process was lead by Sr Margaret Endicott, a past student of Mt Alvernia and the sister of numerous brothers who attended Padua. Whilst reaffirming our independence, we explored a number of ways that the three schools can work together to improve educational opportunities for our mutual families and all of the students who attend our schools. The draft plan that was developed will be shared with our governing bodies in the near future. With their approval, the plan will then be shared with our communities.

I have written previously about the value of commitment and the importance of developing this value in our Generation Y and Z youth. The lack of commitment is most obvious in training and practice sessions for our various co curricular activities. I would ask that all parents support their son’s commitment to co curricular by ensuring their attendance at training or practice. On that note, the attendance and spirit at our first two House Eucharists has been terrific and I thank parents for their tangible support of the very important faith and community elements of our College.

As many would be aware the Camp season is upon us. Additionally, we have had the NAPLAN tests. My thanks to the teachers who have supported and organised the camps and a special thank you to Mr O’Driscoll and Mrs Hodge for their organisation of the NAPLAN tests.

You would also be aware of the Artscape weekend and the Open Day. Our community was at its finest. I am certain that many have enjoyed both events and once again I am very appreciative of the efforts of the organisers. My thanks, in particular, to the many students who volunteered over the weekend for either or both events. These boys are great representatives of our Franciscan ethos.

The next fortnight will not be any quieter. The musical is about to be launched after months of hard work by staff and students. I would urge everyone to buy a ticket to go and see “High School Musical”. They are available from Padua or Mt Alvernia offices.

Best wishes for a good fortnight.

Pace e bene
Robert Out
Rector
As a rugby coach at Padua College, it gave me great pleasure to see the 15A Rugby team walk off the field this week after a 7 all draw with Marist Ashgrove. All were elated with their effort and the fantastic result which keeps them in the hunt for a premiership. However, even more pleasing was the attitude of the boys in their defeat. When I quizzed many of them as to how they played, there was a common theme. ‘We played well sir, but we can play better and we should have won that one!’

This sentiment got me to thinking that so frequently we see only the result, whether it be winning or losing, passing or failing, that we often lose sight of the effort involved in the process. No doubt effort and outcome share a direct relationship, so it’s important to value both.

Through hard work and positive attitude, the 15As may win the premiership this year and I wish them well. I also encourage all parents to instill in their sons this same determination held by the 15As. Whether it be in the classroom, the community or on the sporting field; prepare well, attempt every endeavour whole heartedly and be satisfied only when you have performed as well as you can!

Outdoor Education:
Last week the Year 8 students were lucky enough to spend 3 days away on camp as part of the College’s outdoor education program. The boys were able to enjoy mountain biking, canoeing, stretcher making and orienteering as part of their time away.

Outdoor education is an important and compulsory part of the holistic education of the boys at Padua. By participating in outdoor education, students are able to diversify from the normal classroom confines of learning and apply learning in a new environment. Through outdoor education students are able to learn about the environment, begin a journey of self discovery and enhance their understanding of teamwork and community. Actively participating in a range of activities allows students to challenge themselves and explore personal characteristics. All of which helps develop important life skills.

Driving Permits:
As the year progresses an increasing number of senior students are obtaining their provisional driving license. In order for these students to be allowed to drive to school, the driver must obtain a ‘Permission To Drive’ form from the Pastoral Care Team. This form has to be signed by the requesting student’s parents and a Vice Rector before the student is permitted to drive to and from the College.

Any student (including family) must also obtain a ‘Passenger Request’ form and complete it in the same manner. This form must also be signed by the requesting student’s parents and a Vice Rector before the student is permitted to travel with and under the care of another student.

These forms do not permit students to drive to off campus activities during the normal College hours or to after school events, such as sport training at Banyo. Further consent is required for this to occur.

Student Crossing:
You may have noticed that there have been some alterations made to the road markings and pedestrian crossing arrangements at the front of the College. The Crossing supervisor has asked that all students and pedestrians please observe the crossing rules and stick strictly to the marked area when crossing.

Good Luck to all teams competing against St Edmunds this week.
Next Sunday is the Feast of Pentecost, one of the major feasts of the Christian Church, and a day of particular relevance to the Franciscans in this part of the world. The local Province of the Franciscans that takes in Australia, New Zealand, Singapore and Malaysia is called “The Province of the Holy Spirit.” There is good reason for this title.

Back in the latter part of the 16th century, Pedro Fernandez De Quiros, born a native of Portugal (1565) was in the employ of King Phillip III of Spain and Portugal. Spain was at its zenith and the Pacific Ocean all but a Spanish lake.

Under the commission of the King and the patronage of Pope Clement VIII, De Quiros set sail from Peru, south-west in search of a great southern land. In charge of three ships, six hundred sailors and soldiers, and accompanied by three Franciscans friars (although some reports say up to six friars) De Quiros arrived at the islands of the New Hebrides on Pentecost Sunday 1604, and thinking he has discovered the great southern continent, the mythical Terra Australis, called it “La Australia del Espiritu Santo”—the Great South Land of the Holy Spirit.

So the relationship between the Franciscan Friars and Pentecost— the Feast of the Holy Spirit.

De Quiros died in Panama in 1615. One of the local church’s early historians, Cardinal Moran in 1901 wrote a paper on De Quiros and his voyages of discovery in the Pacific, and relying on some spurious sources claimed that De Quiros had actually landed near present day Gladstone (on the Queensland coast) claiming his discovery as over two hundred years before Captain James Cook!

De Quiros is remembered today with Australian composer Peter Sculthorpe’s music in his honour, and the epic poem of James McAuley’s called “Captain Quiros”. There is a bust of De Quiros in the grounds of the Australian Department of Foreign Affairs and Trade, Canberra.

Fr John

Fr John wishes to thank all those Padua families who helped him celebrate his 40 years as a Franciscan priest, with your presence at the Eucharist, 'phone calls, gifts, and cards of appreciation.
Rugby Union v Rugby League

We seem to have this debate each and every AIC Rugby season. However, it seems we are experiencing some difficulties that need to be discussed before it causes anymore disruptions.

The first thing I would like to say is that Padua is the most understanding of all AIC Colleges in regards to students playing rugby league at a club level. In fact, my background is rugby league and I encourage the boys to participate in as many sports as possible.

Currently I have withdrawn the Open Rugby League team from the Broncos Challenge due to the lack of support shown by a number of Yr 11 and 12 students. The attendance at training has been below acceptable levels, and the excuses conveyed to the coaches (who give up a lot of their time for your son/s) have been poor. It is also becoming a common occurrence that a number of players do not show on Saturdays to play in selected teams. I consider this totally unfair to the coaches, team mates and families. I now field numerous complaints from families concerned about the lack of commitment that some players and families show.

Every student on acceptance into Padua, signs an enrolment agreement (as do the parents). The document is signed and suggests to us that you agree to the conditions of enrolment. Condition (H) states;

Co-curricular activities are integral to the Curriculum of the College and are important ways in which the gifts of every student can be nurtured and shared. In the matter of Sport, participation as designated in the College’s timetable, and on other occasions arising from our membership of the Associated Independent Colleges [AIC] in the Secondary School and the Combined Independent Colleges [CIC] in the Primary School, or by the House System, is required as part of the life of the College and integral to the growth and development of each student. Participation by all - according to the relative abilities of each student - is mandatory. Students are not to play club sport or take up employment that would mean they are unable to play competition sport for the school or attend training sessions. Students will only be allowed to nominate for representative teams provided such commitments do not clash with school commitments and they have the Rector's written approval.

In short this means that every student playing a contact sport such as Rugby League or AFL at a club level must commit to the Rugby Union program at Padua.

Another common problem (and something I cannot do much about) is the number of not available on Saturdays due to injuries sustained playing club footy on the Friday night before. I know injuries are unavoidable, but it is certainly affecting our results and our preparation. I know that many AIC schools do not allow their students to play footy the night before. Unfortunately, very few of these injuries are conveyed to us with the Coach only finding out just before kick off. Again, just another pressure and disruption with which the coach has to deal. I think we should receive at the very least, some form of communication well before the match.

We have always been proud participants of the Confraternity Shield. And I sincerely hope it remains a part of Padua’s sporting program, but our priority remains with the AIC and rugby is a significant part of that competition. However, if support of the Rugby Union program wavers then our commitment to the Confraternity Shield, Broncos Challenge, 15yr, ISC and Met North may need to be reconsidered.

I am not asking you all to embrace the game of Rugby Union, but I am asking you to support it. There is a much bigger picture to this commitment. It helps us to develop school spirit, camaraderie and teaches the boys certain aspects of their character. Playing sport with your school mates is a life long memory – something that all Old Boys cherish.

I know that some of you will never embrace the game of Rugby Union. I have been doing this long enough to realize and accept this. However, only those students playing rugby at Padua and giving a whole hearted commitment will be considered for selection in any Padua College Rugby League team.
Social Justice Breakfast
As this Bulletin goes to print seven students and two staff will have attended this year’s ‘Justice Focus breakfast’ hosted by San Sisto College, Carina. This is an annual gathering of students involved in various social justice activities sponsored by their schools and colleges. This year’s guest speaker, Dominican Sister Sheila Flynn, challenged the students about the degree to which the minority rich world stands in solidarity with the majority poor world. This occasion also gives students a chance to hear and see what their counterparts in other schools are achieving in the justice area.

House Eucharists
This week saw the second of our four House Eucharists for 2010 staged in the Little Flower Church. A wonderful turnout by families on 6 May for the Mitchell House Eucharist really made for a special House celebration. This week it is Odoric’s turn to shine. These House occasions are important ones for all families. We make a point of putting them in the school calendars and expect that every family will be represented. This year we have taken the added measure of checking attendance. The celebration of the Eucharist is the source and summit of our being as Catholic Christians and the best way we can worship our living God. I urge every family to make it a high priority to attend these important House gatherings when they occur.

Franciscan Appeal
The collection for this year’s Franciscan Appeal begins to wind up over the next couple of weeks. This is our most important outreach and as such is given prominence in our annual series of events. The collection of moneys goes directly to our brother school in Timor-Leste, St Francis of Assisi School. In coming weeks Mr Taylor, Nathan Ketlehohn (Yr 12), myself and one other Yr 11 student will be travelling to the school to hand over the proceeds of this year’s collection and inspect for ourselves the fence that was built with last year’s fundraising. This fence was built so that future vegetable gardens could be created. Malnutrition, especially among the children and youth, is a major problem in Timor-Leste today and the school is trying to combat that amongst its students by being able to supply them with some nutritious food during their school day. Our trip will not use any of the money raised from this or previous year’s fundraising but is part of the commitment of the college to further strengthen the ties of friendship between our two schools.

Pitting their sharp minds against three of John Paul College's finest Year 12 students in the pressure-cooker environment of the Harry Gibbs Commonwealth Law Courts, both boys excelled, impressing the judges with their knowledge of the relevant law, research skills, original arguments and ability to think on their feet in the role of defence barrister. Justin and Luke represented Padua with distinction and are to be commended on their enthusiastic involvement in this challenging event.

The “money4mobiles” project helps support the magnificent work of Make-A-Wish Australia by raising much needed funds.

The primary function of the “money4mobiles” project is to collect old mobile phones that are no longer required and have little value in the Australian market. The project’s mission is to collect as many mobile phones as possible from Australia and export them for recycling and reuse. Mobile phones collected are exported into markets where the cost of new mobile phones may be prohibitive. Mobile phones are restored, where possible, to functionality and on sold to users in locations where they would not normally be able to afford the same product in new condition. When the phones are received they are separated into those that can be turned into usable phones and those that cannot. The usable phones are distributed to markets where they are well received and recycled for reuse. The landline infrastructure in many developing countries is often in disrepair or nonexistent and new mobile phones are expensive, so mobile phone recycling helps those who may not be in a position to afford a new mobile phone. This is a good way of helping to protect the environment, by extending the life cycle of the product and minimizing the number of phones that finish up as landfill.

Mobile phones which are deemed to be unusable or beyond economical repair have the useful components extracted. Phones that do not have any value are recycled through the “Mobile Muster” recycling program locally.

Organisations supporting the program will be asked to collect the phones pack them and send them direct to a nominated postal address for processing prior to being sent offshore.

The aim of the project is to save the environment one phone at a time whilst providing financial support for Make-A-Wish Australia.

* Families are asked to provide all meals and a friendly home for their student.
* They will travel to and from school each day via the same way as arranged for your own children.
* Payment to Host Families will be $230/week to assist with some of the expenses involved in hosting.

Yes. Your Japanese student can spend time with your own children and do as they do after school. Families who live near each other are encouraged to share transport, or other activities outside of school.

Do we need Blue Cards?
Yes, All Family members who are eighteen or over need a blue card. We will organize the application form of Blue Card. There is no cost to the family.

An information evening will be held prior to the visit to answer any further questions you may have.
