Dear Parents,

Last weekend the students of Mt Alvernia and Padua performed “High School Musical”. It was a sensational production, which showcased the many talented performers at both Colleges. It should also be noted that apart from the singers and dancers on stage, the orchestra was made up of students, “Old Boys and Girls” and staff from the Colleges. There were many behind - the - scene helpers as well. Congratulations to Ms Bopff and her production crew and all the past and present students involved in the performances!

On Wednesday 26 May, Padua College engaged in the Non State Schools Accreditation Board Review of the overall operation of the College. The review was conducted by members of the Senior leadership Team, Mr Mark McSweeney (Chair of the Board of Directors), Mrs Debra Murphy (Padua College Director) and the external validator, Mr Peter O’Brien (Lecturer in School of Cultural and Language Studies in the Faculty in Education, QUT). The review was overwhelmingly positive. Mr O’Brien had much praise for the policies, processes and operation of the school. A report has been submitted to the NSSAB. If accepted by the Board, Padua College will be reaccredited for a further five years.

During the week, many parents would have seen “The High School report” as printed in the Courier Mail. Included in the range of statistics for Padua, two were particularly indicative of the performance of the 2009 Year 12 students. 99% received either an SAT, QCE or VET qualification. In other words 99% of students achieved what they set out to do. 94% of QTAC applicants received a tertiary offer. In other words, many of those students who wished to go on to further study were able to do so. Padua College is a school which caters for a diverse range of student ability. It is pleasing to see that the vast majority of students graduate with options for the future in their lives.

During the week, Padua farewelled Mrs Janne Roberts after 20 years of service to Padua. Many parents would recognize Janne as the first voice of Padua, being the Receptionist for many of those years. The feedback I receive from many parents is that our front office staff are always so happy, friendly and helpful. This is as it should be in a Franciscan school. I thank Janne for her many years of service to Padua and in doing so thank all of the office staff for their exemplary service. Padua wishes Janne and her husband David a very long and happy retirement.

On a not so happy note, it is with great regret that I inform you of the passing of Mark Wilcox, husband of Helen, father of Christopher (2007 Senior), Mitchell (Year 12) and Nicholas (Year 6). Mark died on Tuesday morning after being diagnosed with cancer in April 2010. Mark has been a stalwart of the Parents and Friends, being the Treasurer for many years. I would ask you all to keep Mark, Helen and the boys in your prayers.

With less than four weeks left in the term, it is important that the boys are kept on task and stick to a consistent study routine. Their social life should also be kept to a minimum. Best wishes for the fortnight!

Hair and Grooming

As part of our ongoing commitment to the College uniform and grooming policy, the House Guardians and I are conducting a mid term hair and uniform check. This fact was recently advertised to parents via email. It is pleasing to see the diminishing number of students who infringe in this regard and I would like to thank all parents for their support with this matter.

I was recently contacted by Kylie Strachan of Charizma Hair Design. Kylie has offered to assist parents with the ongoing grooming of their sons by providing hair cuts to Padua students for $10. Kylie is aware of the College grooming policy and will ensure the students have their hair cut to meet these expectations.

Charizma Hair Design is located at 2111 Gympie Road, Bald Hills. Ph: 32613960

Congratulations!

Last week I had the pleasure of attending the Mt Alvernia / Padua College school musical – ‘High School Musical.’ While I am sure others will comment within this bulletin on its success and the amazing talents of all of those involved, I would also like to offer my congratulations to all of the boys and girls on their amazing display. It takes a massive commitment to produce a performance of such quality and to see students like Patrick Lally, Chris Briggs and Reo Kasai balance their commitments to their studies, their existing co curricular as well as their leadership duties and family life, is a fantastic effort. Just as pleasing was witnessing and hearing of the large number of students who showed their support of the production by attending over the course of the weekend. Well done to all!

Exam Week – Getting Organised

Exam week is fast approaching and no doubt assignments and class revision are starting to mount at home. I encourage all parents to assist their sons over the next few weeks by engaging with them about the number assignments they have due, the revision that needs to occur and the preparation they will need for exams. The more organised you can assist your son to be, the better his preparation is likely to be and this may equate to better results. Assessment Calendars are currently available on SharePoint (The College Intranet) and exam timetables will soon be accessible to assist with this preparation.

Help At Home

I frequently receive comments and questions from parents about at home chores and the balance between school, social and family commitments. I have included in this Bulletin an article from Michael Gross (www.parentingideas.com.au) about having your sons help at home. I hope it can be of assistance.

Mitchell House Update

This week Mitchell House launched our World Cup Football campaign. We have carefully selected 10 competing countries from the 8 groups with the most blue in their flags and randomly assigned one to each PC class. Over the next few weeks of term, each class will have the opportunity to immerse themselves in their cultures and report back to the House on Tuesday morning assemblies. Some classes have chosen to decorate their PC, others have organised a cultural morning tea and we may even see a national dance. There are also prizes for those countries making it through to the round of 16 or better.

Next week we are also looking forward to the Padua Dash, a hotly contested team event consisting of one runner from each year 5-12 over a 1km circuit. Mitchell House Secondary will be represented by Jack Taylor, Solon Avraam, Mackenzie Wise, Alex Porteous and Lachlan Fitzpatrick. Good luck boys.

Yet another book about raising teenage boys! This one by Australian social researcher Maggie Hamilton, What’s Happening to our Boys? It confirms what many of you are concerned about - the increasingly rapid breakdown of parental authority in today’s consumer society. But there is more to it than that, says the author. Hamilton claims that boys’ early exposure and desensitisation to violence and violent sex through the internet, and their worrying catch-up to girls when it comes to body image, are two of many worries parents should have as they raise a teenage son.

All told it is a bleak book, and the author lays much of the problems back on parents, and says that rearing grounded, well-rounded and resilient boys may be harder than ever.

Too often parents are happier with their son on the internet (the new adolescent phenergan), than playing sport (well you don’t have to drive him anywhere). One year 9 boy told me, when I suggested that after an exhausting camp he have an early night ready for sport the next day - that he didn’t play sport and would spend all night on the internet!! I kid you not!!

If parents worry about strangers their son might meet should they play at the local park - think of the strangers they will meet on the screen. At Padua we have boys who flee to the Library during recess and lunch times, who don’t attend Padua socials, volunteer for community work or take part in extra-curricular activities. The end result is that such boys lack inter-personal skills, and have few genuine friends.

One of Hamilton’s main tips to parents is to try to prod their boys to lift their sights, to give them a perspective beyond the all important peer group and their cyberworld.

“We often don’t let our boys feel useful because it can be time-consuming and inconvenient....we focus more on their entertainment than their personal growth...fathers still don’t realise how massively important they are to their boy.... Some boys complain that if they tell their dad about a dream or aspiration their dad will stamp all over it, while mums tended to be more supportive. But where boys had fathers who encouraged them, those fathers were absolutely worshipped.”

2010 Franciscan Appeal
This week saw the official close of the 2010 Appeal and the handing over of the cheque to the friars who look after the money in trust. I am pleased to announce that the total for this year is $27,131! A fantastic amount! Thank you Padua for your generosity and hard work collecting all of this. This demonstrates the high level of commitment we have for fostering our special relationship with St Francis of Assisi School.

Wanted: Students for Timor Visit
In a few weeks time a small group from Padua will be travelling to Timor-Leste and to our St Francis of Assisi School. The group, at the moment, consists of Mr Taylor, myself and Nathan Ketlehohn. Nathan, won an RSL Youth Scholarship based on his desire to increase the relationship between Australia (and more particularly, Padua) and St Francis of Assisi School. We are now in the search for a fourth member of the team! Expressions of Interest are now being sought from any Year 11 student who is healthy, has a passion for social justice, likes meeting new people and travelling to ‘exotic’ locations! Applicants would need a current Australian passport and be prepared to have several injections for things like cholera and rabies. An interest in sport would be a definite advantage. And finally – an ability to live without a mobile phone for a few days!! The selection process will be based upon the submission of a short written application and an interview. If students are interested they can contact me at school or you can ring me on 3857 9986.

St Anthony’s Feast Day
Next Friday, 11 June, the college will celebrate the Feast of our College Patron, St Anthony of Padua. While the Feast Day actually occurs on Sunday this year Padua will come together for Eucharist at 11.00 am in La Cordelle. After an extended lunch break the 3rd Annual Padua Dash will be staged around the grounds of the college. The run is conducted as a relay in Houses and takes approximately 25 minutes. All ages are represented in the run. Good luck to all competitors.

Year 9 Spirit Days
Just a reminder that all Year 9 will have their Spirit Days next month. Boys will spend one day at the Kedron-Wavell Uniting Church and the other day at JC Slaughter Falls. This second day will also involve the Year 9 girls from Mt Alvernia.

Peace and All Good to you all!

CROSS COUNTRY CAMP

Early Sunday morning on the 23rd of May, an enthusiastic group of primary and secondary boys gathered out the front of Padua for the 2010 Cross Country Camp. After the bus drive up to Amaroo, the boys all settled into their cabins and then raced for the ping pong tables and the basketball court. A fun filled afternoon to take the boys minds of what lay waiting for them later that day.

The boys geared up after lunch for what was to be for many, the most difficult run that they had ever done in their lives. A 4 km run for the junior boys, and a grueling 15km run for the secondary boys over the mountainous terrain of the Noosa Trail. Although Cross Country can normally be attributed as an individuals sport, the teamwork and encouragement shown by the boys during the run was something to admire. Everyone pushed each other over those hills, urging one another to really put in a solid effort and to try and reach their limits.

That night, the boys sat down to a delicious dinner and were overjoyed to find out that the night’s movie was going to be Star Wars: Episode I.

The next morning would be difficult for most, a series of warm up runs on the front lawn, and then a 3km run around the Padua property, amazingly, everyone was able to find the energy and finish strong.

After a scrumptious breakfast of bacon and eggs, everyone packed up and boarded the bus for a ride to the coast. The mini-Iron Man was dreaded by most, and the short sleep the night before had taken its toll on some of the boys. But to the surprise of everyone, the Iron Man turned out to be quite a fun activity. The water at Dicky Beach was warm and great to swim in. After everyone had finally cleaned up, lunch at the Surf Club was the final thing left to do on the camp.

All in all, the Cross Country camp was a great experience that turned out to be more about the team efforts and the amazing support that everyone showed each other, more so than the individual’s efforts. Thanks must also go to Mr. Keegan, Mr. O’Driscoll, Mr. Sitarz and the primary teachers, because with out them, the camp would not have been possible and as successful as it was.

Matthew Stewart
Cross Country Captain
David Helfgott, backed by Ellaways Music Foundation, has agreed to do a series of not-for-profit concerts, with the aim of raising enough money to provide a grand piano for Padua College.

The two Padua College evening concerts will be held on Wednesday July 28th and Monday 2nd August, but you can act now and help ensure the concerts are a success.

The Ellaways Music Foundation are asking members of the community to help support them by either buying tickets to the David Helfgott concerts or by making a donation – through the Adopt a Key program.

By buying a ticket or making a donation, your assistance will have a lasting effect – a professional grand piano can service a school’s needs for 50 years or more.

To purchase tickets, visit the Padua Website and follow the links.

Confident kids are competent kids. Past experience has taught them that they can be successful. One way to help develop a sense of competency is to give kids opportunities to help out at home. There is no need to overburden children with jobs, but a sensible allocation of chores according to their age, study requirements and interests is not only a great help to you, but good training for them. They develop the skills of independent living when they help at home, and the notion that they are capable.

It’s best to expect children and young people to help without being paid. By all means provide them with pocket money, but avoid linking it to chores. Helping out in exchange for money develops in children a notion of ‘What’s in it for me?’, which is a self-centred view of life.

Many parents have difficulty getting their children to help. Some spend so much time nagging children to do jobs that they often give up asking and expect little of them. Here are some ideas to encourage your children to help out at home:

1. Keep it real: Kids can sense when parents give them jobs to keep them busy. Make sure the jobs you assign make a real contribution to your family’s well-being.

2. Balance the personal chores with family jobs: Chores are generally divided into two areas. Jobs such as keeping a bedroom tidy benefits a child and jobs such as setting the table benefit the family. By doing this kids learn to contribute positively to family-life.

3. Place the more arduous or difficult tasks on a roster: Children can refer to it when needed, which takes the load off you and removes the need to remind them. Rotate the unpleasant tasks frequently.

4. Use Grandma’s principle to make sure jobs are done: Grandma’s principle means you do the less pleasant tasks first. This is, make sure jobs are finished before mealtimes or before starting pleasant activities such as watching television.

5. Avoid doing jobs for children: When children get the message that no one will do their jobs for them they will be more likely to help out.

6. Show your appreciation for their help: Make a fuss when they help so they know that their contribution to the family is valued. If you do it often enough they may even show their appreciation for all you do for them.

7. Keep your standards high: Don’t accept half-hearted efforts or half-completed jobs. If you think your child is capable of putting the cat food back in the fridge and placing the spoon in the dishwasher then insist that he or she does just that, rather than leaving the cat food on the sink. A job properly done is valued in the world of work, which they will eventually enter.

8. Redefine the term ‘chore’ as ‘help’: The term ‘chore’ definitely has an image problem. Use the term ‘help’ as it is easier on the ear and really does indicate what you want from your kids.

Here’s a challenge: Step back and assess if your children are doing enough around the house to help. Get my free Chores & Responsibilities Guide from my website, and use this to help you work out the helping tasks that they could and should be doing. Go to www.parentingideas.com.au/parents and get your FREE Chores & Responsibilities Guide.

Thank you for your support.
The “money4mobiles” project helps support the magnificent work of Make-A-Wish Australia by raising much needed funds.

The primary function of the “money4mobiles” project is to collect old mobile phones that are no longer required and have little value in the Australian market. The project’s mission is to collect as many mobile phones as possible from Australia and export them for recycling and reuse. Mobile phones collected are exported into markets where the cost of new mobile phones may be prohibitive. Mobile phones are restored, where possible, to functionality and on sold to users in locations where they would not normally be able to afford the same product in new condition.

When the phones are received they are separated into those that can be turned into usable phones and those that cannot. The usable phones are distributed to markets where they are well received and recycled for reuse. The landline infrastructure in many developing countries is often in disrepair or nonexistent and new mobile phones are expensive, so mobile phone recycling helps those who may not be in a position to afford a new mobile phone. This is a good way of helping to protect the environment, by extending the life cycle of the product and minimizing the number of phones that finish up as landfill.

Mobile phones which are deemed to be unusable or beyond economical repair have the useful components extracted. Phones that do not have any value are recycled through the “Mobile Muster” recycling program locally.

Organisations supporting the program will be asked to collect the phones pack them and send them direct to a nominated postal address for processing prior to being sent offshore.

The aim of the project is to save the environment one phone at a time whilst providing financial support for Make-A-Wish Australia.
