Dear Parents

This week, the Year 12 students engaged in the QCS Tests. The results from these tests contribute to the generation of the O.P. scores for those students who are O.P. eligible. Students use their O.P. scores to gain entrance to courses at various universities. Whilst these tests are important, and it is essential that students are prepared well for these tests, it is just as important, if not more so, that students’ engagement with their day-to-day work and periodic assessment is of consistent high quality. Next week, the Year 12 students will undertake their Term 3 exams. We wish them well for the next week and the remainder of their Year 12 time, which is all too short.

Every year, the Queensland Government publishes the results from their destination survey from the previous year. The destinations of the 2011 Padua Senior students are reproduced here.

“Where there is love and wisdom there is neither fear nor ignorance”

St Francis of Assisi
Our year 7 boys have just returned from their camps which by all reports were a great success. Next week, the Year 11 Leadership Camps will begin. Over a two week period, students in their new House groups, will engage in a number of leadership challenges as well as theory sessions. The camps will culminate in each student nominating his choices for the various Senior leadership positions in 2013. We wish them luck for this important process.

Two Paduan students have recently experienced success in areas of study in which they have shown a great deal of promise. Year 12 student, George Battams, recently received one of only seven Encouragement Awards granted from across the state in this year’s Creative Generations Art Awards. Year 11 Student, Lindsay Taylor, has been invited to attend next year’s National Science Youth Forum which will be held in Perth from January 14 to 26. Well done boys!

Thanks

Simon Stower
Acting Rector
Sport is a large part of the life of many a Paduan; and I think it should be.

We talk about team building, physical fitness, the art of winning graciously and losing with dignity. Recently I read the story of a priest who was a cricket fanatic.

During most of the war in the Pacific this Australian priest was imprisoned by the Japanese on Bougainville. It was not an especially harsh camp, not like the ones in Burma and Thailand. The prisoners were allowed to read, and to play cricket, and conduct religious services.

As the war progressed in favour of the allies, things grew darker for the POW’s. Then the priest tells of one day when they decided to play cricket.

It was a Sunday, and they set up the stumps, dressed in their best clothes, made up teams, and assigned positions. One captain was a protestant minister, the other a teacher. The priest opened the bowling.

There was something desperate about the game. It was like in the films, where we were making a statement to the oppressor. It was more like, the priest added, they were starving for something. He would never forget that game. Everyone played as hard as they possibly could. He doesn’t have the words for what it was they were so desperate for- but you could feel it in every man and boy.

Continuing his story the priest said, I have tried to tell people about this game, and they says things like nostalgia, or courage, or memory, or peace- but those are not the right words. They don’t get deep enough. It’s like if they had not been able to play that cricket game they would have sickened and died.
They played all day. They didn’t break for tea or lunch because they were afraid the guards would make them stop. They finally finished at dusk when one fellow jumped for a ball in the air and nearly caught a fruit bat.

There are days when the priest thought if they had not played that game none of them would have survived the war.

So the next time someone makes fun of sport and says it is all childish nonsense, or it’s all about money, and deals with television stations, remember that game.

There is something deep and sacred about sport, though we don’t have suitable words yet for what that is. I think, he says, that those words may come in the years ahead.

I guess they would be beautiful words, rhythmic and delightful. I wish I could hear them. Perhaps I shall.

From the Vice Rector Formation

Fr Joe Rozansky
This week the college was visited by Fr Joe Rozansky OFM, Director of the Justice, Peace and Integrity of Creation Secretariat of the Franciscan Friars. Fr Joe is based in Rome and travels the world speaking to friars and all those working in Franciscan ministries like Padua. Fr Joe was the leaders of the Franciscan group at the Rio 20+ group this year. At the Rio+20 Conference in world leaders, along with thousands of participants from governments, the private sector, NGOs and other groups, came together to look at world nations can reduce poverty, advance social equity and ensure environmental protection. Fr Joe spoke to staff about what they do that makes them Franciscans in the world today – particularly in the field of education.

Red Cross Mobile Blood Van
The Red Cross Mobile Blood Van will return to the college on 31 October, 1 & 2 November. All members of the Padua (and wider Padua) community are welcome to visit the van during that time to make a donation. Padua students are currently making their appointment times through me. To be eligible to donate you must be 16 years or older and in good health. Prospective donors 16 -18 years MUST have signed parental consent. This will be the third visit to the college by the van. Each time the appointment list is full. Padua College currently leads the schools completion for the number of donations made in 2012.

Donation times are from 8.00 am to 2.30 pm. Students from Mt Alvernia will occupy most of the appointments for Friday 2 November. Visitors may access the van directly from Turner Road because it will be parked at the front of the college. Any further enquiries about this visit may be directed to me on 38657 9986.

Italy Pilgrimage Commissioning
At last Thursday’s assembly the group going on this year’s Franciscan Pilgrimage was presented to the college community and commissioned by Fr Stephen Bliss OFM, Parish Priest of Kedron. There are 25 students and four staff travelling to Italy this year. The group departs Brisbane on Friday 28 September and returns on Saturday 13 October. This Saturday night the staff and students meet at the Franciscan Friary at Kedron for dinner which will then conclude the formal preparation for the pilgrimage. The itinerary includes visits to Rome, Greccio, Assisi, Florence, Padua and Venice. A daily blog will be sent to the college while we are away.

Year 7 Beirne and Grigg camp was a huge success and enjoyed by all. We were accompanied by Mr Yeo, Mr Graham, Miss Mahoney and Mr Webb.

Our adventure started with a one and a half hour bus trip to Amaroo whilst watching an emotional movie, Marley and Me.

During our first activity, making boomerangs, we learnt much about the past and present Aboriginal way. Most of our boomerangs were successful and returned when thrown, however, there were a few exceptions!

The next day we were split into two groups with two new activities ahead of us - sailing and high ropes. On the high ropes we faced three different obstacles - Jacobs Ladder, the centipede and the Leap of Faith. Most of us managed to reach the top of each obstacle, again with a few exceptions. An effort that inspired us all was pulled off by Nick Sherwood as he crawled his way up the Leap of Faith with a broken wrist.

Our next activity was sailing at the Noosa Rowing and Yacht Club. We jumped straight into it, onto our boats and in the water. With no one having any sailing experience before, under the guidance of an instructor made us feel safer. We cruised along for a while, learning the important points of sailing, before it turned into a water fight. Buckets of water were going everywhere. After drenching each other for what seemed like forever, we headed back to camp. A big day made for a big appetite, so we got stuck into the dinner that the chef had prepared for us - roast. After a lovely roast dinner we prepared for the talent show and got our acts together.

It was time to perform in front of the judges. With a bit of variety and some interesting acts the winners were, the Puppet Show. After watching the Gremlins we all went to bed ready and raring for the next day to come. We woke up early to pack our bags and get the dorms tidy. After a delightful breakfast we headed off to Noosa beach for a surf lesson. When we arrived we were off for a warm up lap of the beach under the direction of Mr. G. Then the instructors arrived and we found ourselves running another warm up lap of the beach. We then got into some relays in the water, on and off the surfboard. We did several of these until the lesson was up. We then had half an hour for a free swim before heading back to camp. After yet again a great lunch prepared by the chef, we grabbed our bags and headed for the bus. We were then on the bus for another hour and a half until we finally made it back to Padua. It was a great camp and we thank all the people who made it possible.

Ben Bath
Year 7 camp was one of the most memorable events of 2012. There was a range of fun and exciting activities laid out for us! On the first day we arrived we were all sorted into teams. For the rest of camp we all took turns helping around by cleaning and preparing food. To the fun stuff - an aboriginal man came to talk about his tribe and a range of awesome tribal items such as the boomerang and fire sticks! He told all about the tribal events and celebrations. He also gave us a boomerang demonstration.

On the second day we did two very fun activities! All of us were split into two groups, the first group went sailing. It was unbelievable! Everyone went sailing in a group of three with a sailing instructor. One group even flipped the boat and had to wait for the rescue boat! Another group also flipped the boat onto its side and filled up with water. Learning about how the boats work and how to steer, including making the boat do a full 180, and how to lean over the side of the boat to make it go really fast!

The other activity was a series of fun ladders called the high ropes! The first one was a huge ladder called Jacob’s ladder. It was these huge wooden planks hanging from ropes from a tree! Two students, Bailey Sanewski and Jonathan Springthorpe got special awards for going out of their way to help two other students. The next ladder was called the centipede, which was a thin vertical pole with metal hooks planted in it. It was so hard when you looked down and saw how high you were but you got a huge rush! The last one was called the Leap of Faith. You had to climb a tree with metal rungs in the side. When you got to the top you had to climb onto a platform and jump from it and try to touch an orange ball suspended in mid air! Most people touched it, but some didn’t but they still put in their best effort!

That night after yet another fabulous meal cooked by the chef, we all did an act in the talent show! Every student participated and three winners were completely outstanding! The winners were - in third place, Cordell Retchless and Dan Whitaker’s mind freak act where Cordell was an amazing telepath! He also received assistance from members of the crowd. In second place was the amazing and slightly disturbing ‘Linda’. The act was presented by Charlie Shields in the now famous spiderman short shorts. He re-made two songs, ‘Bangarang’ by Scrillex and ‘Whistle’ by Flo Rida to boomerang themed songs. But winning overall was ‘M-Dizzle’, who was Manning Hampstead performing ‘Fireflies’ by Owl City completely blowing the judges away!

As camp was coming to an end, on the last day, after yet another brilliant meal by the chef, this time heavenly pancakes, we set off to Noosa beach where the local life-savers gave us a lesson on many different things. The water was absolutely freezing, but it was still enjoyed by all! Finally it was time to leave as we all got on the bus and prepared for the two hour trip from Amaroo to Padua College.

During the EKKA break, the Environment Club hosted its first environmental conference – the 2012 Padua College Australia Post Kids Teaching Kids Conference. The one-day event was a huge success. There were 110 students and 15 teachers from seven different schools in attendance – Padua College, St Anthony’s, Lourdes Hill College, Bulimba State School, Murrarie State School, Mater Dei School and OLR Kenmore.

The conference was held in La Cordelle, which was an excellent venue for the event. The Padua students from both Primary and Secondary campuses have worked very hard since last November to present a great experience for everyone who attended the conference. In the morning, the conference delegates participated in a Questions & Answers session with five environmental experts. In the afternoon session, they attended four 40 minute workshops presented by Padua College, Bulimba State School, Port of Brisbane and Boondall Wetlands.

None of this was possible without the many sponsors, donators and volunteers. I would like to thank the following people who assisted us:

Port of Brisbane, Franciscan Friars, Kids Teaching Kids, Quality Food Services, Commonwealth Bank, Teachers Union Health, Charlies Fruit Market, QUT Science & Engineering Faculty, Michael Gill, Cannon & Cripps, Travel Smart, Keep Australia Beautiful Queensland, Boondall Wetlands, The Sit Down Comedy Club and the Staff & Parents of Padua College.

Finally, I would like to sincerely thank my conference steering committee – Angela La Rocca, Donna Hughe, Kerrie Geran and Gillian Caldwell. Thank you for all your hard work and your assistance over the many months of planning.

Is your son leaving Padua at the end of 2012?

To enable us to plan for College numbers in 2013, please remember that we require a Term's notice (in writing) for you to withdraw your son from Padua, otherwise one Term's school fees will be charged.
2012 saw Creative Generations (formerly the Minister’s awards for the Arts) run for its eighth year. The awards aim to showcase student work across the Arts and for Visual Art, schools are invited to submit the works of four senior students to be judged by a panel of teachers and practicing artists. The panel choose between 30 - 40 students from across the state for the major prize, which is a five day workshop run by QUT and QCA on the September holidays. They also choose one student from each of the seven regions to receive a regional encouragement award - $250 worth of art materials for both themselves and their school.

This year is the first occasion during my time at Padua that we have had a large amount of quality work to choose from to submit to the awards. Joe O’Toole, Callum McGrath, Nick Barnes and George Battams were the chosen artists with Dusty Howley and Fiachra Kissane unlucky to just miss out.

Callum and George both made it through the first round of judging, with George being awarded one of the only seven encouragement awards across the entire state. This is great recognition for a very talented and hard working cohort and for George in particular. He received his official award at Sunnybank SHS on Saturday and it is great to think that he has been adjudged to have produced one of the top 40 artworks in the state.

Round 2 of AIC sport saw some strong results across the board. With many close matches in both Tennis and Basketball, we won 8/11 and 9/13 respectively. Maintaining this positive momentum into the round against Villanova is important given their strong performances against us in the trial.

Friday night also saw the AIC Track and Field season kick off at QSAC. With a bus load of boys competing for positions over the five warm-up carnivals, we should see some very competitive results on the track. In related news, we had several boys make the Met North Track and Field team after trials last Wednesday and Thursday. They will be heading to States later in the year in a bid to qualify for the Nationals.

Other students that have made representative teams recently include Nathan Wilson and James Manthey. They have qualified for the All Schools Cup Lawn Bowls Challenge Final to be held in the September school holidays, we wish them luck.

As we will be entering the fourth term soon, a call will be going out (student notices) for students who wish to participate in the AIC Water polo season. With only four rounds and four teams, it is short, sweet, competitive and a lot of fun.

Lastly our Hockey team is into the knockout semi-final this week against St Edmund’s at 4pm, at Kedron-Wavell. It would be great if any students with some spare time head down and support the boys in a bid to make the finals.

Martin Raadschelders
U/16 AFL Premiers

Building on the success of the U/14 side last year the U/16 Padua AFL team came away from the AIC season as premiers. After a brief yet intense season dominated by some outstanding team and individual performances the boys came out on top in the final game against traditional front runners Marist Brothers College, Ashgrove.

Throughout the season the boys approached each game with great enthusiasm and physicality, priding themselves on tackling other sides out of the contest.

Our AFL clubmen were a class above the opposition in all of our games, dominating the middle of the ground. With outstanding performances throughout the season from Zac O’Callaghan, Jeremy De Bortoli and Jackson Hanley. Padua won out in clearances around the ground and out ran opposition midfields both offensively and defensively.

The grand finale against Marist was a seesawing clash that saw our boys race out to an early three goal lead. To Marist’s credit they pegged us back to within just one goal going into the final term, however, with continuing solid efforts form Jesse Gough, Zac O’Callaghan, Lindsay Collins and a Man of the Match performance from Lewis Smith had the boys coming away with a solid three goal win.

Best player for the season was Zac O’Callaghan and the coach’s award went to Daniel Best who continually gave his all throughout the season.

Kids Challenges and Choices

Today kids need to be resilient, self-confident, and be able to communicate effectively.

We can assist your children to develop these necessary life skills

The Being Me is Great program explores issues that concern children. A range of skills and strategies to help them manage their lives are presented and children are encouraged to know themselves, like themselves and be themselves.

Our Being Me is Great program helps kids to:
- Identify, label and monitor their feelings
- Identify and challenge negative thoughts about themselves and others

We will address listening skills, assertiveness, negotiation, social problem-solving skills, decision-making, perspective taking and effective communication.
