ANGELO

Angelo Tancredi joined Francis shortly after Francis received papal approval for his way of life. He was a priest from the Rieti region. He is described by Thomas of Celano as one of the four pillars of the nascent Franciscan Order. He was described by Francis as a man of courtly bearing, kindness, and a man of friendly manner and common sense.

It was Francis' desire that Angelo as a priest be with Francis in his dying days, accompanying him in prayer till he died in 1226. Angelo died in 1258 and was buried in the lower church of the Basilica of San Francisco.

LEO

Leo was born in Assisi and joined Francis shortly after Francis had travelled to Rome to seek permission from Pope Innocent III to establish the order. As a priest he was confessor and constant companion to Francis accompanying Francis on his many preaching journeys. He was secretary to Francis.

Leo's last years were at the Portiuncula where he wrote works promoting the ideals of poverty and simplicity, that he saw as in keeping with the original vision of Francis. Leo died in Assisi in 1271.

QUINTAVALLE

Bernard of Quintavalle was one of the wealthiest young men of Assisi, and a Law graduate of the University of Bologna. He became intrigued by stories of Francis, who once known for his frivolity and party-going, took on a life of poverty and simplicity.

Francis said of Bernard, "he is worthy of all reverence, and that he founded the order, because he was the first who had left the world and joined me in preaching the gospel."

He died in 1245 and he was buried in the right transept of the lower church, beside the tomb of St Francis.

CATTANI

Peter Cattani was a priest, canon of the church of San Nicolo and law graduate from the University of Bologna, who was one of St Francis' first companions. He later joined Francis on his pilgrimage to the Holy Land, and then in 1219 was with Francis at Damietta when Francis visited Sultan Malik-al-Kamil.

When Francis resigned as head of the order in 1220, he appointed Peter as his successor. Just over a year later Peter died. Peter spent the latter years of his life at the Portiuncula and died there.

MASSEO

Masseo was born in the Tuscan town of Marignano and had been a knight in the service of Perugia. He was with Francis on many of his preaching journeys and when Francis retreated to lonely places for contemplative prayer. Masseo was known for his courtesy, kindness and friendly manner. Often, he would rebuke the other friars for their lack of common sense and consideration of other friars.

Masseo died in 1280 and is buried in the left transept of the lower church of San Francesco.

RUFINO

Rufino was a cousin of St Clare and a member of the noble di Scipone di Offreducio family.

Francis regarded Rufino as one of the holiest men he had ever met, and in the words of Francis, "the gentlest and noblest man of Assisi." He found preaching very difficult but rather than go on the road, spent much time in prayer, retreating to forests and caves for contemplation. He was at his comfortable best at the Carceri hermitage, outside Assisi. Rufino was with Francis during the last months of the saint's life, tenderly caring for him, and with him when he died at the Portiuncula in 1226.

Rufino died at the Portiuncula in 1270 and is buried in the crypt of St. Francis Basilica.
