THINGS FRANCISCAN

Fr John Boyd-Boland

Dear Paduans,

The recent Encyclical of Pope Francis begins with the words of Saint Francis as he praised all of creation in his sublime song, The Canticle of Creation. This solemn papal letter reveals the Pope's belief that there is a moral obligation to act swiftly on climate change, which disproportionately harms the world's poor.

What makes this Encyclical especially "Franciscan" is the more than substantial references to Saint Francis. To begin with there is the recognition of the inherent value of all of creation, and the connection between abject poverty and environmental degradation.

The Pope goes on to cite the scientific consensus that human activities are driving global warming and calls for reduced fossil fuel use in order to help the world's poor. Now by making environmental protection a moral imperative, this papal intervention may well spur the world's 1.2 billion Catholics to lobby policy makers on ecology issues.

It comes as no shock that we witness the conservative media's relentless attack on the Pope, going so far as to call the Encyclical "insipid" and "blasphemous". Pope Francis accused of being a "Marxist", pushing a new world order, where all of us "will live equally in misery."

Even in last Saturday's The Australian readers were counselled not to take this letter as any more than an opinion. I doubt if the author would have made the same judgment about Pope Paul VI's Encyclical, Humanae Vitae! I am sure the Encyclical will stimulate much debate.

The friars in attendance at the General Chapter of the Franciscan Order have elected MICHAEL PERRY ofm as the 120th successor of Saint Francis as Minister-General. He received 109 votes out of 122 cast. Michael is the third American (US) to be elected in the Order's 806 year history. He has a PhD in Religious Anthropology, a B.A in History and a M.A in Theology. This year he celebrates his 60th birthday. Prior to his time in Rome his previous post was as a missionary in the Congo for ten years.

A special thanks must go to our guest speaker, Old Boy, Eamon Conway who shared his experiences with the assembly. Upon graduating from Padua in 2009, Eamon was accepted into the Dean's Scholars accelerated program for undergraduate mathematics at QUT, in which he achieved First Class honours. He is now continuing his study and is presently doing a PhD in mathematically modelling the transport of particles in nanodevices. Along the way, he has received recognition for his work in the form of an Australian postgraduate award, and numerous prizes at conferences. While at Padua, Eamon was an accomplished musician, captain of the Firsts Football Team and one of the top academics in his cohort. Eamon spoke about being open to new ideas and being willing to explore areas that you may not have considered previously.

Sportsman's Dinner

Ben Lowrie

Vice Rector Pastoral Care

On a night where the inclement weather, flash flooding and the cancellation of the ANZAC Day test at Suncorp Stadium threatened to overshadow the success of the event, the Old Boys stayed strong once again, beating the rain and traffic to Gambaro's Restaurant for the 25th annual Padua College Sportsman's Dinner. Former origin great and now Channel 9 'The Footy Show' Host, Paul Vautin headlined the evening.

As an Old Boy of Padua, Paul reflected on his fond memories of the Friars, his time as a junior at West Mitchelton Rugby League Club and most comically, his life as a professional footballer and TV show host. His insight into his personal and professional dealings with Kerry Packer were greatly received!

Accompanied by Steven Renouf, hosted by Pat Welch and with greats such as Dane Carlaw and Grant Rogers in the crowd, the evening took on a distinctly Rugby League theme.

The night was a huge success with the money raised assisting the 2015 Confraternity Shield team compete in the Confraternity Carnival in June/July.

Look out for this event in 2016 as tickets sold out fast this year. There is a quiet whisper that Jeff Fenech may be looking to share his stories on Azumah Nelson, Don King and Mayweather vs Pacquiao.

Old Boys' Cricket Match 2015

The annual Old Boy's Cricket match took place pre-season this year, allowing for some more development of the First XI team before their Melbourne Tour. Therefore, on Friday the 16th of January after a few seriously hot days with the College Cricket Clinic, students and Old Boys joined forces. Both teams were lacking some of their star power so this year's format was slightly changed to mix both teams with current and former players. More of a mentoring game. Also a chance to see two of the current students vying for Captaincy lead a group of players.

Some notable performances for the game included a half century by Joe Davissen (current student) and 3 wickets to Samson Lowney (Old Boy) who both played in the same team, which was captained by Jack Lipscombe. The game while successful, will be back next year with the normal format of Old Boy's V First XI. This will allow the current players a chance to change the undefeated history of the Old Boys.

I regard myself as a very lucky person because I was able to train the same team for two years.... the team may not think the same!! I saw the team develop and improve mainly by their own determination. Last year the boys improved greatly towards the end of the season. This year, the same team won every game but two. One of these games they lost against Ferny Hills in the first round, but defeated Ferny Hills in the second round. The other game they lost taught them a valuable lesson, and cost them the Zone Premiership. It taught them no matter what else is on your mind, you must do your best at the given job. (They played this game the day before the Holidays!).

There are two team members who deserve special mention - Steven Loth and Michael Dawson, both of these boys were team men. They did not play for individual glory but for team success. Steven was awarded the "Best and Fairest" and Michael "Most Consistent."

U11B

To these boys, you have my deepest admiration. It takes a special type of person to get out on a field and know, before the game even begins, that there is little chance of your winning. Even under these conditions the whole team showed determination and a team effort.

Two boys deserve extra special mention... Simon Veivers and Darren Hill, both boys had some games with the A team but led their B team under all conditions. Simon was awarded "Best and Fairest" and Darren "Most Consistent."

A special thanks must go to those parents who supplied transport. Games would have had to have been forfeited if they hadn't made themselves available. On behalf of the boys, I thank you.

Thanks also to both Mr. and Mrs. Dawson for helping to train the boys.

U10 Premiers

Adrian Hose

The U10A team went through the season undefeated and won the Brisbane Metropolitan Premiership in front of very vocal supporters at Lang Park. After averaging 40 points a game in the zone matches the team had its hardest game of the season against Nudgee and for the first time had to rely on defence as well as attack to win. Paul O'Brien and Brendan Williams were the outstanding players in a whole team effort. In a rugged encounter against Yeronga at Lang Park, the boys were headed for the first time with only 7 minutes to go. They bounced back scoring 2 tries by Matthew Stark and Paul O'Brien after Paul Bertinato had made a long run to put the team into an attacking position. Simon Brady and Steven Short were magnificent in defence and Brendan Williams, as usual, led from the front. Terry O'Regan proved a great tackler and organiser in this and every game. Sean Burke took some great catches and improved during the season - Michael Sharpy proved very reliable at full back. Michael Fawcett-Smith, Christian Seymour, Mark Munro and Rohan Brunello were the remaining forwards and all played well in the finals. Nicholas O'Driscoll was the remaining player, and at wing, scored some fine tries.

Soccer Senior A

The Senior A team won 7 of their 12 matches to finish in 4th position. Albany Creek and McDowall tied for first on 22 points each.

Players who deserve special mention include Chris McLeod, always there on a loose ball and Bradley Kammin and Damian Jordan - both dangerous running on to the ball. Without a good mid-field, a team will not work and the tireless running of David Ward, and at times brilliant work of Mark Saftich, Christian Scudamore and Chris Bishop kept the team in good stead in many a tight spot.

As for the back-line, the solidarity of Jason Phie and Darren Wright was well supported by Scott Callaghan and Simon Boevink and Gab Fallabella as our small but talented stopper. As the goalie, Antonio Cavazza, often had his hands full but always worked hard to keep the team heading in the right direction. Finally, but most importantly, thank you to the untiring support of the mothers and their transport, in particular Mrs. McLeod, Kammin and Ward.

Junior A

Although not a happy season for results, with the team definitely losing more than its fair share, the boys showed promise for greater things to come. Some fine performances were recorded by Greg Champion and Craig Gill, Jamal Tan, Corey Phie, Matthew Dallon and Andrei Wainwright-Smith all showed that, with another year's maturity, their presence in any team will lift that team. The find of the season was without doubt, Andrew Gillick as goalkeeper. So often many want to be goalie till the going gets hard. Andrew worked from start to finish in some games and often kept his team from falling behind. Let's hope all the boys return next season - it should be a good one. Thanks to all the parents for their support and we hope to see you next season also.

100 games with Eagles honours family tradition

Byron O'Neill

NORTHSIDE veteran Dan Ritchie admits he was a nervous wreck before his Premier Rugby debut in 2010.

"My first Premier game I remember turning out against University of Queensland, who had 13 Red-contraband players, and vomiting in the warm-up," the Nundah resident said.

How times have changed. Five years and 100 games later, Ritchie has become the starring influence in a struggling Norths side that has required the shore of calm in the past few seasons.

The 27-year-old scrumhalf reached a century of Premier Rugby outings against Souths at Hugh Courteney Oval on Saturday, a fitting reward for a player who has stayed true to his roots.

"My father had played for Norths, my uncle had played there and my grandfather had also played there. So when I made my premier debut I was a third generation Norths player. My younger brother, Bart, has since done that as well," said Ritchie, who rejoined the Eagles this season after a two-year stint playing in Scotland and Canada.

"Having that history in the club, particularly when there's such a high turnover of players, it's nice to (reach 100 games with) that history and tradition behind you."

"I've never in my wildest dreams thought I'd get there. You don't really think you'd get an opportunity to do that, and particularly with my family's history at the club. It's right up there as one of the high lights of my career."

The Eagles were unable to give Ritchie a win in his milestone match, falling 32-21 to the Magpies.

Strung last, Norths travel to Wests on Saturday.

News from Japan

This year 2014 Padua graduate Callum Brooks is studying at one of our sister schools in Japan (Nigawa Gakuin). It's been five weeks since Callum arrived in Japan and he is gradually getting used to the cold and his new school environment. I asked him to write a little about his experience thus far.

Aimee Asimus

My home-stay family's name is the Fujino family and they are the loveliest people I've ever met in any country I've been to. The two daughters of the family, Serina and Marina were and still are patient with my limited Japanese and the son, Kotoru, is like the little brother I've always wanted. The mother, Yukari, is so incredibly friendly and helps me with so much here in Japan. As it is with a lot of Japanese families I don't see Mr. Fujino very often, but on my first night he welcomed me into his home and gave me some traditional Japanese food in Onigiri (Rice Balls) and Ocha (Green Tea).

I've been in Japan for five weeks and the language is coming to me slowly but surely with the help of a lot of study. The students at Nigawa Gakuin are really friendly and are always inviting me to sit with them at lunchtimes or to come with them after school to their clubs so I don't feel lonely despite being away from home. Japanese school is very different to Australian school in that it is much more regimented and you spend a lot more time on the grounds after school and even on weekends. Despite this, I'm having a great time over here and I'm really happy to be able to represent Padua this way.

Luck – success or failure apparently brought by chance rather than through one's own actions

At the conclusion of the 1st XV's Captains Run on Friday I mentioned to the squad that they should not allow anyone to "wish them luck". They were not undefeated as a result of "luck" – it was hard work, determination and high team standards that had placed them in this position. Luck will only get you so far, it rarely wins championships or premierships. It's no coincidence that three above mentioned values or principals are also strong keys to a success in life. If you continue to rely on "luck" you will fail more often than not. Luck had nothing to do with the 1st XV's final history making performance on Saturday. They fully deserved and earned that premiership.

At the conclusion of the AIC Season Padua had recorded the following aggregate results – Chess (2nd); Rugby (3rd) and Football (7th). I would like to thank the coordinators Mr Kevin Peart, Mr Tony Guilfoyle, Mr Dan Cull and Mr Michael O'Rourke for their outstanding management of their programs. Nearly 70 teams were prepared and sent out each week to take on the AIC. We posted more wins than losses, but more importantly we played the game the way in which it should be – with integrity and humility. When the 1st XV, Open A Chess and 2nd XI hold high the trophy they are representing the whole college – not just their team and that is why we feel so proud of this great college.

Many thanks to the huge support out at Banyo on Saturday. It was unbelievable and surely indicates how far we have come as a force in the AIC Sporting Competition. Fr John and now Mr Out have been instrumental through our AIC journey and Saturday was the perfect way to reward and acknowledge them. To the many staff who coached and supported – my sincere thanks. And to all the Old Boys (the most I have seen) please make your presence an ongoing tradition. It was amazing. You are very much a part of our AIC legacy.

Padua won 6 premierships in total;
1st XV Rugby (Mr Ben Lowrie and Mr Ty Casey)
Open A Chess (Mr Kevin Peart)
2nd XI Football (Mr Ben Furhman)
16A Rugby (Mr David Lea and Mr Brock Sherman)
16B Rugby (Mr David Lea and Mr Brock Sherman)
Intermediate A Chess (Mr Kevin Peart)

The 3rd XV Rugby were also very unlucky finishing one point behind Ashgrove after playing one less match. This one maybe debated for a while. The 16C Rugby and 9D Football also remained undefeated.

The cross country runners also officially began their campaign on Friday at Villa Park and Iona. We have a very talented bunch of runners at the moment but our depth maybe be tested if the numbers at training don't increase. The next month will be vitally important to Padua Cross Country success at the AIC Champs. With everyone running Padua can reach the top 3.

Basketball and Tennis trials are well and truly underway with teams close to being finalised. Both sports have seen an influx of numbers and talent seems to be much higher than last year. Hopefully good things ahead next term.

The Confraternity Squad will commence preparations this week leading up to the carnival in Ipswich through the 1st week of the holidays. We wish them all the very best and welcome as much support as possible.

Maths Teams Challenge 2015

Wednesday 26th May around 30 of our brightest mathematicians competed in the Maths Team Challenge at Arana Hills Leagues Club. The boys competed in teams of 5 in their year levels and worked through two rounds of challenging problem solving questions.

All of our teams competed fiercely but huge congratulations must go to our Year 7/8 team comprising Samuel Buckland, Jacobson Harris, William Barker, Joshua McBay and Luther Minshull.

These boys took out FIRST PLACE in their division, with an incredible score of 247/250. This is an amazing achievement as they were competing against strong competition of over 30 teams from some of Brisbane's top schools. Well done boys! Keep up the great work!!!

Congratulations

Each year the boys of Year 12 combine to buy the College a gift in recognition of their time at Padua. The gift is usually a lasting item at the College and has previously included College banners, co-curricular resources and religious symbols.

This year's Year 12 group have decided to offer their gift comparatively early in the year so that all students get to see its immediate use. On behalf of Tom Fall, the College student leaders and all of Year 12, the College was pleased to introduce Ernie the Eagle 2K15. The College's new mascot!

We look forward to seeing the new Ernie at all our major College events in the future.

Fr John Boyd-Boland is seen here blessing the new College Banner. The banner was a gift from the 2014 Graduating class. It was presented at the Academic Assembly in February by Rowan Herklots and James Weston on behalf of their class. The banner will be used at special events such as the AIC Ecumenical Service.

2015 Franciscan Appeal
As of Tuesday of this week our 2015 Franciscan Appeal had nudged over $38 370! I am staggered by this result. With just over a week to go before we present our final cheque at the St Anthony's Feast Day Mass a new record amount is possible. Last year Padua set a new record collecting $40 630. We have only $2 261 to go to beat that!! My challenge to every Paduan is to do something about that. A gold coin donation would be enough! The Franciscan Appeal is OUR Appeal. It is the glue that helps bind the special relationship between St Francis of Assisi College and Padua.

This year Padua passed a major milestone in its fundraising. Passing the $17 900 mark in this year's fundraising meant that in the 24 years of fundraising events for either Project Compassion and more recently the Franciscan Appeal, Paduans have raised $500 000! This remarkable achievement has been led by Mr Mark Taylor. Thank you Mark for your inspiration and persistence and thank you Padua!

2014 Student results

Over the holidays, the school received some very good news about the results of the 2014 Seniors. The highlights are that all students received a Queensland Certificate of Education. Eighty students received one or more VET qualifications. Seventy-seven students received an OP between 1 and 15. Five boys received an OP1. Congratulations to
