

Quick links

Quick links takes you directly to a wide range of websites that will provide further information about education, training and employment.

www.myfuture.edu.au  is an online career service designed to help you explore and plan your career. You can explore career options based on your skills, interests and values, and find information about occupations, where the jobs are and related courses.

www.jobguide.dest.gov.au  provides an in-depth look at over 500 occupations and related education and training options. You can search for occupations you are interested in, the personal requirements of the job, employment opportunities and what education and training is needed.

www.goingtouni.gov.au  is an information source for higher education students, providing information about universities and the changes to Australian higher education.

www.australia.gov.au/skillsforthefuture  provides information on Australian Apprenticeships, Australian Technical Colleges, the Career Advice Australia network, and a range of new initiatives to help workers 25 years or older to start or upgrade their qualifications.

www.australia.gov.au/australianapprenticeships  provides information on Australian Apprenticeships, including how to find one, what an Australian Apprenticeship involves and where to get more local information.

www.aajobpathways.com.au  to find out where Australian Apprenticeships are available and follow links to job pathways charts and job descriptions.

www.australia.gov.au/careeradviceaustralia helps 13 and 19 year olds get the skills, training and advice they need to start planning their future.

www.workplace.gov.au has detailed information on occupations and jobs. The Job Outlook link provides a snapshot of employment prospects to 2010-11 for a large range of occupations.

www.getatrade.gov.au is for students, parents and industry and is all about careers in areas of skill shortage. It also provides information and pointers that will help you consider the full range of careers and training options in a range of industries.

www.ntis.gov.au is an extensive database on vocational training and education (VTE) in Australia.

www.avcc.edu.au an informative general website on Australian higher education. Through the area for students you can link in to each university to explore their programs, courses and scholarship opportunities.

www.graduatecareers.com.au provides employment information and career opportunities for graduates from higher education institutions and provides career education support and services.

www.jobjuice.gov.au has lots of career, job search assistance, apprenticeship and training information designed for young people.

www.thegoodguides.com.au has information on careers, institutions and courses and can help you choose the best course, campus and institution (TAFE and university) to meet your needs.

www.dest.gov.au provides access to a range of policy and program information, including on careers, vocational training and education (VTE), Australian Apprenticeships and higher education by linking in to a range of interesting websites.

www.dest.gov.au/careerdevelopment is where you can find out about the range of career information products available to download or order online.

www.abc.net.au/acedayjobs has online videos about Australians working in jobs they are passionate about.

www.abc.net.au/catapult showcases innovative and creative ideas in business, science and industry in action.

www.careersinscience.gov.au has relevant and interesting information about career pathways and opportunities in science.

www.centrelink.gov.au is where you can access support services and programmes to continue your education and training or work.

www.enya.org.au ➤ promotes the active participation of young people in business.

www.gapaustralia.org ➤ outlines opportunities to live and work in a different country and culture, to take a break from study and develop your confidence.

www.innovation.gov.au ➤ is a website for innovative and entrepreneurial young Australians.

www.jobsearch.gov.au/joboutlook ➤ contains current labour market information including job prospects, employment rates and average incomes.

www.open.edu.au ➤ is a flexible way to study toward a university degree off campus.

<http://smartmoves.questacon.edu.au> ➤ for career pathways and opportunities in science, engineering and technology.

www.thesource.gov.au ➤ has information on programmes, services and resources for young people between the ages of 12 and 25.

www.training.com.au ➤ has links to Vocational and Technical Education.

www.workplace.gov.au ➤ provides information about employment in Australia including wages and working conditions, labour markets and careers.

www.volunteeringaustralia.org ➤ details a range of opportunities for volunteers.

www.qtac.edu.au ➤ (Qld)

QTAC provides general information on university study and some TAFE programs, and leads in to comprehensive information on institutions, available courses, entry requirements and course "cut-off" ranks. QTAC's main function is to receive and process applications for university and some TAFE courses at the Diploma level.

www.detir.qld.gov.au ➤ (Qld)

This government authority provides information about the state's vocational education and training system, Australian Apprenticeships and in some cases higher education.

